MEMORANDUM FOR: General Carter

As I mentioned the other morning, I am very much impressed with the draft of the Organization Inventory prepared by John Bross and his organization. I understand this study has been put in final form with certain commitments and additions which Kirkpatrick and I discussed.

It seems to me that this study, together with our recently-developed organizational chart setting forth the experience, etc., would make a very informative briefing for certain Government officials, the Director of the Budget, our select Committees, and others.

It occurs to me that this might be done by slides, which if properly arranged would be more interesting than briefing boards.

Let's discuss it at an early opportunity.
